The Estimates for the Interest on the Public Debt were prepared before the Canadian Pacific Railway Loan Act of 1884 had been submitted to Parliament—the necessity of raising moneys through that Act, in consequence of the rapid construction of the railway, has obliged the Government to borrow, and there will be a further sum of $1,750,000 payable for interest in 1884-85; on the other hand, the interest from investments it is estimated will have increased from about $675,000 to about $1,900,000. This includes only the interest to the 12th March on the Canadian Pacific Railway 5 per cent. loan.
